

Stone Age Story Prompt

Imagine this...

You are out on a walk when you suddenly trip and tumble through a hole in the ground. When you open your eyes, everything looks different. The trees are taller, the air is colder, and in the distance you can hear the heavy footsteps of a giant animal.

A group of Stone Age people spot you and take you back to their camp. They show you how to make fire, cook food, and carve tools from bone. But soon, the ground begins to shake – a woolly mammoth is nearby!

Your task: Write a story about your adventure in the Stone Age.

Think about:

- What do you see, hear, smell, and feel?
- Which animals do you meet? Are they friendly or dangerous?
- How do the Stone Age people help you, or how do you help them?
- Do you stay in the Stone Age, or do you find a way back home?

Plan Your Story:

Characters: _____

Setting: _____

Problem: _____

Ending: _____

Once you've completed this, you can create your story!
